Opon an issue in regard to the mental imbecility of a granter the epistons of unprofessional witnesses, founded up un abservation of the appearance and conduct, may be given in evidence. The opinions received, however, must be confined to facts alone, and must not embrace any matter of law.
Such cases belong to that class of exceptions to the general rule, in which opinions are received an accessions, for the reacon that the minute appearance upon which they depend cannot be so reflectly described as to enable a jury to draw a just conclusion from them. Questions of identity, of nadwriting, intoxication, secural imbecility from old age, and some questions of value hedong, with others, to the class.

The Trustees of the College of Pharmacy in New York expointed the defendants a Committee to investigate complaints in respect to the importation of spurious and adulter and drags. The defendants made a written report intended to be presented, and which was presented to the Secretary of the Twastry, in which they charged the pinitifi, who was examined and import or of drags, with gross violation of the official duty if Held. That such upon thaving been made in good fait. be prescrict, and which was presented to the Secretary of a Treasury, in which they charged the piaintiff, who was exam-lines and inspector of drugs, with grow violation of the others duty; Held: That such report having been made in good faith and upon probable cause, for the purpose of arresting the sale and use of spurious and adulterated medicines, was a privileged communication.

and use of spurious and adulterated medicines, was a privileged communication, which would otherwise be actionable, is privileged if made in good faith, upon a matter involving an interest or dury of the party making it, though such duty be not strictly legal but of imperfect obligation, to a person having a corresponding interest or duty.

The special damage to support an action for defamatory worse, not actionable in themselves, must result from it jury to the plaintiff's reputation, which affects the conduct of others toward him. His mental distress, physical linear and inability to labor, occasioned by the aspersion, are not such natural and legal consequences of the words spoken as to give action. The cases of Bract agt. Toweley (13 Wend., 283), and Fuller agt. Fenner (16 Barb., 333), overruled. The cases of Barb., 333), overruled.
Wilson agt. Gott.

The loss of a wife's services from illness, the con-quence of mental depression resulting from defamatory words not actionable in themselves, will not support an action by the hasband.

The wife, if sole, could maintain no action for words which have not actually injured her reputation; and the husband can-not recover damages from her inability to labor where she could not recover damages from her making to the fems of the order due to its date, and upon a page which should have contained a mortage several years antecedent in execution, is not notice to a subsequent mortgage in good faith.

The Stock market lost much of its improved tone this morning, and prices had a downward turn throughout the day except for two or three stocks, which seem to be especial favorites for the time. The Canada's news, which was generally construed unfavorably by stock operators, no doubt had an effect against the market-but it was pretty clearly established by the transactions of the day, that our previous conclusions in reference to the character of the movements for several days' past were correct. Outsiders have no doubt taken some interest since the serious decline in many of the leading stocks-but the support has mainly come from a few of the prominent operators at the Board. To make this successful, requires steady and persistent courage, which has not been displayed, although prices seem low enough on many of the active stocks to attract speculative attention, especially at a period when money is so easy of access for such operations. Outsiders have been so seriously alarmed by the unsatisfactory returns of our Railway Companies, that they are not likely to be the initiators of movements for the rise, however tempting the low figures established may appear. At the First Board the opening sales of New-York Central were at 83?, but the market gave signs of weakness at once, and the stock declined slowly during the call, bringing up at the close rather heavy at 834. Hudson River, which is next in order on the printed list, was one of the few stocks which did not appear to sympathize in the general beaviness of the market, selling at 34 before the call closed, and closing in demand at the quotation, with but moderate sales. The firmnes in this particular stock is attributable to the gradual but steady increase of business, in contrast with that of other lines, accompanied by a material reduction in the working expenses of the road. The receipts thus far in November show a fair gain and in December the prospects are good for a very material increase from the probable earlier closing of navigation. A large saving in expenses is anticipated from the use of Cumberland coal instead of woodexperiments already made with several of the engines having satisfactorily demonstrated that the cost of fuel will thus be considerably diminished. Every locomotive on the road is to be supplied with coal-burning apparatus. Reading had a very steady market, but was slightly lower in early transactions, recovering, however, a little as the call progressed. The transactions were not so large as usual. In the Western shares there was not much activity except for Rock Island, which began at 621, but was in demand, and improved 1 in closing transactions, though not sustained after the adjournment. A good share of the purchases were probably for short account, the bears having taken considerable lines in this stock, in consequence of the unfavorable traffic returns. Michigan Central had a fair degree of firmness, and shows but a slight decline from Wednesday's quotations. Michigan Southern common stock was dull and without material change, but the preferred fell off 1 ? cent, and was pressed for sale with considerable vigor.

Galena manifested decided heaviness throughout the session, and the supply of cash stock was larger than Illinois Central declined | P cent, with small sales. The Canada's quotations report an advance of about 2 ? cent in the English market, but the high quotations from this side had not yet been received. The City of Baltimore steamer, which was passed by the Canada coming out of Liverpool harbor, carried intelligence of the discharge of the assignment. The material rise in this market followed that public announcement here. Pacific Mail had a declining tendency, but was inactive. Sales at the Second Beard were made down to 103, a decline of 1 P cent. At the Second Board, the feeling was still rather heavy, and a further decline of from 1 to 1 to cent was submitted to in most of the prominent stocks. New-York Central went down to 22, but was subsequently firmer and in demand at 82]. Harlem Preferred sold at 304 B 30, an advance of lover recent cash sales. The improvement originates from the very satisfactory statement of the six months' business, which has just been made up, and which we give in detail below. The Bond business was to a fair extent during the day, and for State and favorite railway securities there is a well sustained and rather increasing demand. Prices generally show a small advance over quotations of Wednesday. "This shows a falling off, in round numbers, of ninety-two millions in dutiable goods, and a gain in both free goods and specie. The increase in free goods is made up entirely of articles added to the free list by the tariff of 1857. The tetal imports are $78,276,991 less than for the previous year; but in dutiable merless than for the previous year; but in dutiable mer-chandise the total is less than for any previous year since 1852. We also annex a comparative summary of

EXPORTS FROM THE UNITED STATES TO FOREIGN PORTS.

Fear-ending Domestic Foreign Specie and Tune 20. Produce. Produce.

It will be seen that the lating on in the expense much less than the decrease in imports, for while the latter have declined $78,276,911, the experts have decreased only $38,316,261. Of this decrease only $27,555,689 are in demestic produce, while the specie experts have fallen off $16,503,775, and the reshipments of foreign produce have increased.

The business of the Clearing-House to-day $28,650,881, being for two days. The Breadstuff market, under the foreign news, was heavy. Mr. John B. Purroy has resigned the office of Vice-President of the American Atlantic and Pacific Canal Company. The Pacific Mail dividend has not yet been lared from which we infer that the arrangements for investing $600,000 in steamships in the Pacific, where the Company has already an ample supply of turnage, have not been completed. A telegraphic dispatch states that the Lexington and Danville Railroad has been sold at auction at $125,000 to McCampbell, Bowler & Co., and the rolling stock, &c., for about $10,000. We notice no change in the Money market of importance. The supply offering on call is abundant at 426 P cent, and first-class paper which continues scarce, is passed at the same rates. One of the large Wall-street banks had offerings for discount of only $7,000 to-day. As an offset to the shipments of specie to the extreme South to-day, we have received from Philadelphia and Baltimore some $600,000 or $700,000 during the week, and these receipts are likely to continue for the present. Meanwhile there is no demand for bars for export, although nearly all the gold by the last California arrival deposited in the Assay-Office was ordered into bars. Treasury Notes are quite dull. The payment of those notes into the Custom-House continue to be quite small, some $3,000 to $8,000 per day. The Secretary has now, it is supposed, about two millions of 3 V Cents on hand, which he has the right to reissue, and it is believed he will find it necessary to do so before or soon after the meeting of Congress. The balance in the Treasury is now reduced to a very low

#3.500 first week of the present month, was due in a great measure to the bad state of the country roads after a rain storm of two weeks' duration. The economy in ex-penses on the Southern Michigan more than neutralizes the above loss. The receipts in the Erie thus far in November, show an excess of between fifty and sixty thousand dollars. The Hudson River Road also gains considerably up to the present date in this month, and if the aggregate results equally well, the gain over November, 1857, will be $15,000 to $20,000.

The official statement of the business of the Harlem Railroad for the six months ending 30th September, 1858, shows very favorably, and indicates that the resumption of payment of dividends upon the Preferred stock cannot be far distant. The receipts were as

Net profit for six months equal to one-half tee current dividerd due in the Preferred Stock. The Road is now worked with great economy consistent with efficiency, and the object of the managers appears to be to place it as soon as possible upon the list of dividend paying roads. Of course it will be many years before the common stock can have any participation in earnings. There has recently been quite a movement in the Preferred Stock, which has no doubt been based upon the above results. The market has advanced from 25 to 30 within a short time on purchases, many of which have been made by parties who intend to hold for the results of the coming two or three years, believing that the road can be worked to pay $120,000 profit per annum which is the amount required for the Pre-ferred dividends. The actual profit of the six mouths included in the above statement was about $50,000, as $18,000 was paid for old indebtedness of 1853-4, &c., and charged to expenses, the road having no construction account open.

We learn that large works are now in process of erection at the city of Cumberland for the purpose of making Kerosene Oil out of the Cumberland coal.

The deposits in the Mint at New-Orleans in October were $751,994, of which $396,000 was in silver. The coinage was $571,000.

The Governor of Arkansas, in his message to the Legislature of that State, which assembled on the 4th inst., states that the liabilities on account of the Real Estate Bank and State Bank are estimated to aggregate $3,000,000, and the latter institution is regarded by the Governor as hopelessly bankrupt.

It was to the effect that the Suffolk Bank will continue the redemption of country currency, after the 30th inst., on the following terms:

"All bills coming through these city banks from banks in New-England, having special deposits with the Suffolk Bank, to be free from charge.

"And all other bills to be paid for by these city banks at the rate of 25 cents for $1,000."

The Cincinnati Gazette of the 17th says:

The Cincinnati Gazette of the 17th says:

"There has been a good demand for money during the week, with considerable activity Monday and yesterday; but the supply of currency has continued equal to the offerings of good paper, and the market maintains its easy features. Banker's rates are 10 to 12 to cont for acceptable names, with a leaning toward the latter figure. Street brokers are doing little or nothing in good business paper.

"Until within the last two days, the supply of Eastern Exchange was not equal to the demand; but since Saturday it has increased materially, and yesterday bankers had free offerings at their counters, their purchases being in excess of their sales—in most cases leading to the establishment of lower buying rates for New-York, and a downward tendency on other points. The selling rate remains at 1 premium. This influx of Exchange, consequent upon produce movements, has caused a suspension of the assorting business."
